

Intellectual Directors Of Assassination Sought

Mexican Officials Disbelieve Assassin's Statement That He Alone Was Responsible for Killing President-elect Obregon—Calles Says Officials Have Information "Complicating Directly Clerical Action"—Presidential Succession Raises Grave Questions.

Mexico City, July 19 (AP).—Search was intensified today for those whom President Calles termed the "intellectual directors" of the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon.

General Obregon's body was en route to his native state of Sonora, some 1,000 miles distant, aboard the presidential train which he would have used had he lived for inauguration in December. The body will arrive at its last resting place tomorrow.

Police identified the slayer as Jose de Leon Toran, 23, an art student and a native of Lagos, in the state of Jalisco.

President Calles in a signed statement announced that the assassin had confessed that his crime was motivated by religious fervor. He said also the authorities had gained much information "complicating directly clerical action." The government was determined, he stated, to punish not only the material author of the crime but also to punish "as examples" those found to be "intellectual directors of the deed."

General Antonio Rios Zertuche, installed as chief of police after the tragedy, announced that the prisoner "had commenced to talk." Emilio Casado, proprietor of the restaurant at San Angel where Obregon was killed, and 12 employees of that place were arrested and held for investigation. El Universal Gráfico said the mother and wife of the assassin also were under arrest.

Republic Remains Tranquil. General Limon, chief of the presidential staff, announced that the situation throughout the republic continued tranquil despite the intense feeling which the slaying had engendered. The army was under orders to maintain peace and censorship still remained in force. Excitement in the capital, which caused numerous enemies of Obregon to flee in fear of their lives, quieted considerably.

The permanent commission of Congress was summoned to meet today to consider the political situation which has resulted from the assassination. Whether Calles would continue in office after his term expires in December or whether another would be elected to replace Obregon was still a matter of conjecture.

Assassin Claims Sole Responsibility. The prisoner, subjected to a continuous grilling, has insisted that he alone was responsible.

He was said to have lived at Guadalupe and that he came to Mexico City six months ago seeking work. Police asserted that they found on him a picture of the Catholic priest Miguel Angel Pro, who was executed in connection with the attempt to assassinate General Obregon with bombs last November. A rosary and other religious emblems were also found.

Religious Fanaticism, Motive of Crime. "The criminal already has confessed his tragic action was motivated by religious fanaticism," President Calles stated. "Furthermore, the authorities have gained much information complicating directly clerical action in this crime."

"But my government," without being impressed for one moment for this new sombre system which is being practiced against our institutions, will renew its energy, and now announces to the nation that the liberal principles of the social revolution movement, which popular conscience affirmed eighteen years ago, never can be nullified."

He concluded his statement by saying:

Constitutional Government To Continue. "Finally I want to announce that the government will continue, as heretofore, within constitutional paths and with requisite calmness and energy."

This is construed by some as signifying that the president will not attempt to succeed himself. The Mexican constitution at present forbids direct succession of the president in two terms of office. Calles was elected on the slogan: "Effective suffrage, no re-election."

Various means of making such succession possible, however, were being discussed in the capitol. These means included the appointment of a provisional president to assume office on the expiration of Calles' term in December. It was generally believed that if this plan were followed that Aaron Sáenz, former minister of foreign affairs and former governor of Nuevo Leon, would be named provisional president. Sáenz

Tells Why Nobile Was Rescued First

Swedish Rescuers Had Orders to Take One of Wounded—Believed Nobile Could Aid in Rescue of Others.

Stockholm, July 19 (AP).—The reason that General Umberto Nobile, leader of the Italia expedition, was rescued first, as explained by his Swedish rescuers, was that all the circumstances, including the General's condition and his knowledge of the situation, made it advisable to take him off the ice first.

The leader of the Swedish Spitzbergen expedition, Captain Tornberg, referring to the rescue of Nobile on June 24 by Lieutenant Einar Paal Lundborg of the Swedish expedition, states that Lundborg had orders to take one of the wounded members of the Nobile party, but which one was left to his discretion. Tornberg, however, impressed on Lundborg that it was desirable to save Nobile first in order that he might assist them with information which would be invaluable in rescuing the other survivors.

Lundborg declared he considered Nobile's condition very serious and as conveying Natale Cecconi, the other injured man, who was much heavier, to the landing place would have taken more time, he thought it better to take Nobile first. The latter, in the meantime, was carried to the landing stage to await Lundborg's return.

It was on this return flight that Lundborg's plane upset in landing.

Gun Battle in Atlanta Prison

Atlanta, Ga., July 19 (AP).—Atlanta Federal penitentiary was besieged from within for a time last night by two desperate armed convicts.

With three other long-term men they were in solitary confinement today while a guard was nursing a minor scalp wound, the only casualty of a 30-minute gun battle.

A near-riot was precipitated during an exercise period in the prison yard about dusk, when Roy Gardner and Joe Urbas, serving 50 to 60-year terms for mail robbery and notorious as "escape artists," were seen at the inner wall. Guard Captain Clarence L. Parker and Guard Dunce who found the pair in the act of climbing an improvised ladder, were confronted with drawn revolvers. Bunce was clipped on the head.

Before the remainder of the prisoners knew what had happened, the plotters had marched Parker and two other guards who rushed up through the first gate toward freedom. On nearing the second gate they opened fire on tower sentries, using the guards as shields. Bailed in this effort, because Captain Parker threw his keys through the gate grating, they surrendered to a score or so of armed guards, after a fierce exchange of bullets during which none was hit.

Meanwhile the prisoners in the yard, left unattended, set up a loud clamor. Guards later herded them into their cell blocks with difficulty.

$50,000 High School Burned. Cranberry Lake, N. Y., July 19 (AP).—Fire of unknown origin today destroyed the Cranberry Lake High school with a loss of $50,000. The building was of wood. It was built in 1920.

was among the foremost of Obregon's supporters.

May Amend Constitution. Other suggestions were that a constitutional amendment allowing Calles to succeed himself in the present emergency might be asked or that the constitutional amendment that extends the presidential term to six years might be interpreted as applying to President Calles, who was elected for a four-year term. This would retain him in office until 1933.

Just before the train pulled out of Mexico City, thousands of Obregon followers raised their right hands and took a solemn oath to sustain his principles and to see that punishment was visited upon those responsible for his death. This was done at the instance of a member of Congress who, as the oath was given, turned to President Calles, standing nearby, and said: "We demand of you justice by the punishment of those guilty of murdering Obregon."

Uniform Wage Scale Abandoned

International Policy Committee Attempts to Cope With Depressed Conditions by Giving United Mine Workers' District Officers Right to Negotiate With Operators.

Indianapolis, July 19 (AP).—District officers of the United Mine Workers of America today were free to negotiate with coal operators on any "mutually satisfactory" basis, provided all agreements shall be submitted to a district convention for referendum.

Thus one of the basic principles of the union policy in the bituminous coal fields—the uniform wage scale for union miners, was discarded by a decision yesterday of the international policy committee in an attempt to cope with the depressed conditions in the country.

With the abandonment of the base wage, the famous Jacksonville agreement, which assured union miners $7.50 per day and $1.05 per ton from 1924 to 1927, was dropped as no longer an effective basis for wage negotiations. It was the expiration of this agreement, April 1, 1927, which resulted in the present bituminous coal suspension.

It was made plain, however, that pending negotiation of new agreements the Jacksonville scale would prevail.

150,000 Miners Affected. The new union policy will affect about 150,000 miners in the central competitive field (western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois) and the outlying districts of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and Nevada. Many of the miners in these fields have been idle since the suspension fifteen months ago.

Hope was expressed in miners' circles that the district agreements would result in resumption of operations. Indiana operators said they were ready to meet the miners in wage conferences and indicated they would demand the 1917 scale of 25¢ per day. Large Pennsylvania operators, whose mines have been on a non-union basis for nearly four years, said they had definitely broken with the union and would not consider further negotiations with it.

Agitation by miners of southern Illinois for the right to negotiate separate wage agreements brought before the policy committee the question of whether changed conditions in the bituminous fields required a modification of the union policy. The committee assembled July 11 at the call of President John L. Lewis.

Scale in Effect Since 1920. The wage scale abandoned by the union yesterday had been in effect since 1920, when it was promulgated by a federal coal commission appointed by President Woodrow Wilson. A strike by miners in 1922 when they were suffering from a slump in coal production and consequent loss of pay resulted in a two-year renewal. The union struck again in 1924 and the three-year Jacksonville agreement resulted.

The Jacksonville agreement represented more tonnage than ever before, the only mines left out were the non-union mines of eastern Kentucky, all of Tennessee, southern West Virginia and part of northern West Virginia.

GOV. ERIKSSON LEADS IN MONTANA PRIMARY. Helena, Mont., July 19 (AP).—With Burton K. Wheeler, United States Senator from Montana, renominated by the Democratic party in Tuesday's primaries, interest today centered in the race for the Democratic nominee for Governor, with Governor J. E. Erickson leading Roy E. Ayres of Lewiston by a scant margin.

Wheeler continued to pile up his lead over S. V. Stewart, war-time governor, who has conceded victory to the senator.

Joseph M. Dixon, of Missoula, another former governor, with a lead of more than 10,000 votes over C. H. Williams of Deer Lodge, for the Republican nomination, probably will oppose Wheeler in November.

SWEDISH RELIEF PARTY ORDERED TO RETURN. Stockholm, July 19 (AP).—The Swedish Spitzbergen relief expedition has been sent orders to return to Stockholm.

There are two Swedish ships now in the north, the quest which was used as a base for aviation scouts, and the Tanja, which has aboard three Swedish aviators.

Members of the Swedish rescue party include Captain Tornberg, Lieutenant Einar Paal Lundborg and Lieutenant Sjöberg.

ONE KILLED, 16 INJURED WHEN TRAIN DERAILS. Rome, Ga., July 19 (AP).—One passenger was killed and 16 others injured, four of them seriously, last night, when the last three Pullman cars of the north-bound Ponce de Leon, fast Florida-Cincinnati Southern Railway train, were derailed near here.

A defective rail snapped after nine cars of the speeding train had passed over it safely.

The man who was killed was riding on the observation platform. He was identified as Joseph Rordon Hodgson, Philadelphia.

Hoover Receives Conflicting Views On Farm Problem

Farm Belt Leaders Do Not Agree on Existing Situation and Its Political Aspects—Friends Do Not Think He Will Advance Specific Plan in Acceptance Speech.

Abroad Hoover Train, Cheyenne, Wyo., July 19 (AP).—Friends who have conferred with Herbert Hoover during his westward journey to California have gained the impression that the Republican Presidential nominee does not intend to advance any specific plan of farm relief in his acceptance speech at Palo Alto next month.

These same friends declare, however, that Mr. Hoover is thoroughly alive to the fact that the condition of agriculture presents a problem which calls for solution, and that he will pledge himself to make a thorough survey of the whole situation, and to dedicate his best efforts to the formulation of a practical plan of aid.

Details of a specific plan very likely will be left for further study.

As he traveled across the continent during the past five days, Mr. Hoover has received somewhat conflicting views from leaders in the farm movement as to just what the situation in the corn belt really is as it bears upon his own political fortunes and those of his party.

Nowhere was this more pronounced than in Nebraska, where Governor Adam McMillen insisted only the equalization fee, or its equivalent, would satisfy the farmers and keep them in the Republican ranks in November. Charles A. McCloud, Republican national committee chairman for that state, and other political leaders declared that the equalization fee principle was out and that there was no doubt about Nebraska giving a substantial majority for the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

As his train sped through the foothills of the Rockies today, Mr. Hoover continued his conferences with political leaders, meeting a delegation from Utah and having as his guest in his private car Governor Fred B. Balzer of Nevada, who rode across the state with him.

These conferences and rear platform appearances at a large number of cities have prevented Mr. Hoover from continuing his work on his acceptance speech, but he is expected to devote much of his time next week to this task, although he will hold conferences with party leaders from the Pacific coast and Rocky Mountain states and also will give some time to clearing up certain matters on the Pacific coast which he desires to personally attend to before the President relieves him of his duties as commerce secretary.

Because of the death of Mrs. Hoover's father, C. D. Henry, all plans for homecoming celebrations at San Francisco and Palo Alto Friday have been abandoned.

Boy Scout Saves Life of Another

Boy Scout Vernon Hull Successfully Uses Resuscitation Methods He Had Learned to Revive John Van Kleeck, Saved From Esopus Creek.

John Van Kleeck, a sixteen-year-old boy, was seized with cramps while swimming in the Esopus creek near the Washington avenue viaduct about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening and was brought to shore by Vernon Hull, a member of the Boy Scout American Legion Troop No. 10, who successfully applied the resuscitation methods he had been taught, and revived Van Kleeck.

Several boys were swimming that evening and having a fine time when young Van Kleeck was seized with a cramp and sank. As he arose to the surface young Hull grasped him by the hair and with the aid of another youth brought Van Kleeck to shore. The youth had inhaled considerable water and was unconscious.

Some one telephoned to the fire department and the inhalator was rushed to the scene, but it was not needed as Van Kleeck had been revived by young Hull and the other boys.

AMELIA EARHART WELCOMED AT CHICAGO. Chicago, July 19 (AP).—Chicago was bedecked with "welcome home" flags today in honor of Amelia Earhart, unknown when she graduated from high school here some years ago, but who since has won fame as the first woman to fly the Atlantic.

The famous aviatrix, with her flying companions, Wilmer Stultz, pilot of the trans-Atlantic Macgovern Friendship, and Louis Gordon, mechanic, are to spend four busy days as guests of Chicago.

Today's program included a parade from the railroad station to the city hall, luncheon at a south-side hotel, and a banquet tonight.

After tonight's banquet, Gordon and his fiancée, Miss Anna Bruce, were to be married in a public ceremony.

Alpines Complain. The proprietors of the Alpina Hotel, 42 Abel street, have complained to the police that a number of boys have been damaging their property. The boys are said to be known and it is expected that a warrant will be secured.

Governor Holds Daily Conferences

They Are With Newspapersmen and He Talks Freely on Every Subject Except Politics—Many Matters Not for Publication.

Albany, N. Y., July 19 (AP).—Although Governor Smith is showing reluctance to say much for publication about the presidential outlook until after his nomination, he sees newspapersmen every day and talks freely with them on nearly every subject except politics.

As governor, the Democratic presidential nominee made it a practice to see reporters twice daily—morning and evening—before noon and representatives of morning papers late in the day. Now he has one press conference a day—usually shortly after noon—and he even holds them on Sunday as an accommodation to the correspondents.

When the governor is spending the day during this hot weather in the executive mansion, the reporters are invited to meet him in a reception room to the right of the front hall where on the walls ledges and stands there is a profusion of family photographs.

If he is busy at his offices in the state capitol they see him there, where he sits behind his desk, clear in mouth, in no hurry either to start the conference or end it. When the weather is oppressive, he greets his interviewers with coat and vest off, suspenders taking the place of the belt worn by many men.

Mops Brow and Drinks Water. As the governor chats and fences verbally with the dozen or more men who "cover" him for newspapers, a glass of ice water is always at his elbow. Throughout the conference he constantly mops his perspiring brow and drinks water.

One of the preliminaries at all press conferences is the passing of cigars, and this formality usually is taken care of by "Bobby" Fitzmaurice, the governor's confidential messenger. Then the reporters fire away. They ask questions—none are submitted in writing, as is the custom at many of the press conferences with federal officials in Washington—and if Smith sees fit to answer, he has a quick comeback. Otherwise he either ignores the inquiry with a smile or refuses to be drawn out.

Personal Plans Not Discussed. Since the Houston convention the nominee has declined to discuss his personal plans or campaign arrangements. In due time, he advises inquirers, announcements will be made. Until then he is leaving it to his political lieutenants, chief among them his friend, John J. Raskob, national committee chairman, to work out details, and make such announcements as are advisable.

During the banter between Smith and newspapersmen at his press conferences he frequently remarks: "Off the record." Then he speaks his mind about something freely, but it never gets into print.

MAYES CAR WRECKED

WHEN HIT BY WRECKER

Hirschell Mayes of 10 Center street, this city, a representative of the Prudential Insurance Company, had a narrow escape from serious injuries on Wednesday evening. He was driving his Chevrolet car on the Palenville mountain when his car was struck by a wrecker from the Holcomb garage at Palenville. When the accident occurred Mr. Mayes had steered the car off the highway to a lawn in order to avoid the wrecker which he saw coming and which was running as if something was wrong with the steering gear. The Chevrolet was completely wrecked, even the engine being broken. Mr. Mayes received a number of cuts and bruises.

PEDESTRIANS ESCAPE AS AUTO CRASHES INTO POLE

Pedestrians at the intersection of O'Neil street and Broadway had a narrow escape from being run down Wednesday evening, when the automobile driven by Roscoe Benson of Hurley got beyond his control.

Shooting across Broadway the Benson car struck the automobile driven by Joseph Bennett of 34 St. James street, who was proceeding north at the time. Several people just missed being knocked down by the runaway machine. Both cars were damaged. It is believed that something went wrong with the steering gear of the Benson car.

Woman Suffers Slight Injuries. A woman, name not reported, was injured slightly in a collision of automobiles at the intersection of Greenkill and Clinton avenues late Wednesday afternoon. The cars in collision were operated by T. M. Kellender of 34 Broadway and the chauffeur for the Greenkill Park hotel.

"Missed" Hole Held Fatal Charge. Mount Carmel, Pa., July 19 (AP).—One man was killed and one critically injured in an explosion today at the Sayre mines, an operation of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company. They drilled into a "missed" hole, one in which a charge of dynamite had been placed and not fired.

Conveyed to Hospital. Edward Davis was conveyed early this morning from Miller's Lane to the City of Kingston Hospital.

Two Arrested in Raids Wednesday

Dry Agents Visited Livingston Manor and Shandeleo Lake and Seized Intoxicants and Arrested Proprietors.

Wednesday afternoon prohibition agents working from the Kingston office on Fair street made two raids at Livingston Manor and Shandeleo Lake, seizing a quantity of alleged intoxicants and placing two proprietors under arrest.

At Livingston Manor the agents raided the butcher and poultry shop of Samuel Cohen on River street, where they seized alleged liquors and beer. Cohen was placed under arrest and was held under $500 bail by Justice Ernest Hawver of Livingston Manor for his appearance later before United States Commissioner Crist at Middletown. The agents in raiding the Cohen shop were armed with a search warrant.

Simultaneous with the raid at Livingston Manor a raid was staged on the Pummer Hotel and dance pavilion at Shandeleo Lake, where what was said to be high powered beer was seized and the proprietor, Joseph Pummer, was placed under arrest. He also was held under $500 bail for appearance before Commissioner Crist at Middletown. In making the raid on the hotel the agents were armed with a search warrant.

"STILL" PROVES TO BE SPRAYING OUTFIT.

A spraying outfit and not a still was what Sheriff Milton O. Bailey found upon examining the ruins of the large barn, owned by Dominick Campai, which burned to the ground near Athens Tuesday. Previous to the fire a loud explosion was heard for a considerable distance in the area of the barn. Spectators saw a galvanized apparatus in the ruins of the barn and their assumption that it was a still prompted the investigation by the sheriff, who termed it a spraying outfit. He said there were no coils or other still fixtures attached to the outfit. The explosion is believed to have been caused by a gasoline tank on a car which had been stored in the barn.

Wedding Dramatically Postponed. London, July 19 (AP).—The Daily Express said today that the wedding of the Honorable Mrs. Lionel Tennyson to James Montgomery Beck, Jr., who was named as corespondent in the Tennyson divorce suit, had been dramatically postponed. Mr. Beck is a son of the former Solicitor General of the United States.

In Police Court. Oscar Jublin, arrested Wednesday evening for parking on the crosswalk at Broadway and Field Court, was fined $10 by Judge Shufeldt in police court today.

Fund Started to Send Legion Drum Corps to Texas

Judge Clearwater Answers Request for Suggestion in a Practical Way—Drum Corps Hopes to Lead Legion Parade at San Antonio Next October.

The following correspondence between Commander Heiselman of Kingston Post No. 159, American Legion, and Judge Clearwater of Kingston Post No. 159, American Legion, is self-explanatory, and the object sought doubtless will commend itself to the people of Kingston.

Kingston Post No. 159, American Legion, New York, Inc., 15 West O'Reilly Street, Kingston, N. Y., July 14, 1928.

Hon. A. T. Clearwater, Historian, City of Kingston, Kingston, N. Y.

My dear Judge Clearwater: Because of the large increase in membership of the American Legion of Ulster county during the past year, it is highly probable that the honor of leading the American Legion parade in San Antonio, Texas, next October, will be bestowed on Kingston Post Fifte, Drum and Bugle Corps. This honor is Kingston's as well as ours. Perhaps it will never be ours again.

It is the ambition of every true Legionnaire to attend a national convention, where thousands of state in the union gather once a year to renew acquaintances and formulate policies for peace-time service to the flag they served in war-time. The parade is an important part of each convention is a typically American procession—endless, changing, colorful but in no way military. Florida parades with its truckload of oranges, which it gleefully scatters throughout the crowds. Iowa marches with arms full of starchy corn-stalks, bleached golden yellow, the while lustily chanting the virtues of their native soil. Each state of the union contributes its share of pageantry which is peculiar to the national parade of the American Legion. To march in such a parade is a breathless adventure, never to be forgotten.

That the honor of leading this parade might be Kingston's brings to the boys of our drum corps fond dreams. Our Post realizes that to have these men attend the convention would be of inestimable value to the esprit de corps of our Post, that they and we would get fresh inspiration to carry forward the Legion's program of peace-time service to our community, state and nation.

Our drum corps, composed of 43 well-instrumented, carefully trained and gorgeously uniformed Legionnaires, was organized last September. Since then, by unflagging interest and diligent effort, they have earned $2,000 with which to buy their equipment.

They made such an excellent impression in the firemen's convention parade here recently that their natural desire to take part in the San Antonio parade was encouraged by some of our leading citizens, some of whom offered to subscribe to a $3,500.00 fund necessary for railroad transportation.

We of Kingston Post confess our inability to appraise the civic interest which our citizens would have in the banner of Kingston, N. Y., being proudly borne by Kingston's sons at the head of the nation's parade. We have no desire to conduct a public campaign at this time.

Some of our boys would have to sacrifice 12 days' pay to make this pilgrimage, plus the cost of meals in San Antonio and other incidentals. They are willing to do their share. The question is: Do you think sufficient voluntary subscriptions would be made in this case if the matter were publicly brought to the attention of the people of Kingston?

We bring our problem to the city's historian, that distinguished, well-read sage whom all difficult problems eventually reach.

Faithfully yours,
C. J. HEISELMAN, Commander.
July 16, 1928.

To Conrad J. Heiselman, Esq., Commander Kingston Post, No. 159, American Legion, 15 West O'Reilly street, Kingston, N. Y.

My dear Commander: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 14th instant, and to say that it affords me great pleasure to endorse the suggestion that the Fifte, Drum and Bugle Corps of your Post attend the convention of the American Legion at San Antonio, Texas, next October, not only because it will give the boys a fine opportunity of learning what a vast country this is but that it will demonstrate to representative people of that country how important a place Kingston is and incidentally what an important place it always has been.

One great outstanding feature of the people of Kingston and of the county of Ulster has been their undaunted and never failing courage. Always they have contributed beyond their quota to every American War, beginning with the French and Indian War, and following with the War of the Revolution, War of 1812, War with Mexico, War of the Rebelion, Spanish-American War, and the World War, and in my opinion there is no recreation too great for the people of Kingston and Ulster to bestow upon the survivors of any of these.

I enclose a modest contribution to the expense of your trip.

Always sincerely yours,
A. T. CLEARWATER.

Rotary Heard Of Philippines

Jorge O. Massa Tells Rotarians Why Islands Seek Freedom—Cannon Ball Baker a Guest of Kingston Rotary Wednesday.

The members of the Kingston Rotary Club listened to a very interesting address on why the Philippine Islands sought their freedom and how Cannon Ball Baker, world famous automobile driver, at the last meeting on Wednesday at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The address of the day was delivered by Jorge O. Massa of the Philippine Islands, who was present at the Wood's Y Camp at Woodstock, who was introduced by Chester H. Hall, boys' work secretary of the local Y. M. C. A. Several of the Rotarians had brought guests with them to the meeting and they were introduced in true Rotarian style.

D. Scullion, Jr., chairman of the committee to arrange for the coming Ladies' Night, stated that the Kiwanis Club would unite with the Rotary Club for the occasion and the affair would be staged at Dreamland Farm at Riverkirk. The only thing that had not been decided upon was the date for holding the event. It was finally decided that Wednesday evening, August 1, would be the date most convenient to Rotarians.

Mr. Massa was then introduced and spoke briefly on why the Philippine Islands sought their freedom. He said one reason was that they wanted to solve their own problems themselves. The spirit of national freedom, he said, had been suppressed for three hundred years but with the great strides made in the islands since they were taken over from Spain by the United States there had grown up in the breasts of the people a desire to rule themselves.

He said that he would like to pay a high tribute to America and what it had done in the Philippine Islands. It had established the public school system, one of the greatest blessings the islands had ever had. The public schools had enrolled three millions of students in the Philippine Islands.

"If you don't want us to desire freedom," said Mr. Massa, "stop sending your American school histories which teach of freedom." The words of Washington and Lincoln were implanted in the hearts of the people of the islands and with it the desire in the hearts of the people to become free like America.

Mr. Massa said that in addition to his work with the Y. M. C. A. he had been elected president of the Philippine Christian Students' Movement. In this country which numbers in its membership three thousand Philippine students now in the United States.

Since he had been in America the one question that had been asked him was why the Philippine Islands sought their freedom. It was not because they did not realize what America had done for the islands but the desire for freedom had been suppressed for three hundred years under Spanish rule. "To solve our own problems for ourselves," said the speaker, was the desire of the peoples of the islands. It was not through war that such freedom could be attained but through the realization of the peoples of America that the islands should have their freedom.

Mr. Massa spoke briefly and earnestly and made a most favorable impression on his audience.

The meeting closed with the singing of The Star Spangled Banner.

Court Gives Recipe to Preserve Children

Seattle, Wash.—As pickling and canning season arrives, Judge Austin E. Griffiths of the juvenile court offers a recipe for preserving children.

"Take one large, grassy field, one-half dozen children, two or three small dogs, a patch of brook and pebbles. Mix the children and the dogs well together, put them into the field, stirring constantly. Pour the brook over the pebbles. Sprinkle the field with flowers. Spread over all a deep blue sky and bats in the hot sun. When brown set away to cool in a bathtub."

Reception Wiped Out

All Bitter Feelings

Some of Whistler's personal enemies in England had directed pretty harsh criticism against him and his work, so when he was invited to attend as guest of honor a dinner at the Cafe Royal in London the artist thought it would be a good occasion to reply to his detractors, especially considering that those attending the banquet and its sponsors were members of the Chelsea Art Club, source of some of the attacks.

A. Henry Savage Landor, much with Whistler in those days, in his "Memoirs of An Explorer," relates how Whistler rehearsed to him that afternoon an extraordinarily witty speech full of barbed shafts directed at his personal enemies.

But at the banquet his fellow artists so lionized him and the applause when he got to his feet was so thunderous and evidently sincere that Whistler, deeply touched, wavered, his knees trembled and his voice was so unsteady that it was difficult to hear the few banal remarks that he actually made. Trembling, he sat down, tears in his eyes, not a word of his carefully prepared speech uttered.—Detroit News.

Siam Offers Fertile

Field for Naturalist

The fact that two American naturalists are now on a collecting tour in Siam brings to mind the fact that of late years really remarkable progress has been made in the study of the fauna of this country. But there still remains a good deal that can be done in this field, which is a very much larger one than most people would suppose, for we are really sort of junction between three roads, the Indian, the Chinese and what has been termed the "Malaysian." It seems rather a pity that no effort is made to popularize the study of the birds, beasts and fishes. A natural history museum should not only prove of scientific use, but would doubtless aid a good deal in dispelling the rather woeful ignorance that seems generally to exist regarding the magnificent fauna of a land that is extremely fortunately situated as the meeting place of species and of types.—Siam Observer.

Louisiana Purchase

In the treaty providing for the Louisiana purchase there was no definition of the boundaries of the territory. When the American commissioners insisted upon a definition of the extent they were informed that the boundaries were the same as they had been when the land was in the hands of the French; that is, according to Barthier's original treaty of retrocession. It included Louisiana west of the Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota west of the Mississippi, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Wyoming, Montana, most of Kansas, Indian territory and Colorado east of the Rocky mountains.

Fun for Photographers

Butterflies and moths are not only exceedingly beautiful, but the various stages of the development are most interesting to observe, says Nature Magazine. They furnish wonderful opportunities for one "addicted" to a camera.

Halfway Banquet At Wood's Y Camp

Wednesday evening a half-way banquet was held by the forty-five boys at the Wood's Y Camp at Glenelg, and among the guests were the members of the boys' work committee of the local Y. M. C. A. and several others who assisted in making the banquet a first class success. During the evening chicken a la camp style was served with all the trimmings and there were speeches and music by many of those in attendance.

The camp this year has been a very successful one with forty-five boys in camp. The boys are especially grateful to Robert Harder who had presented the camp with a Radiola. A letter of appreciation was sent Mr. Harder which was signed by every member of the camp.

Years of Service in MODEL T FORDS

Expenditure of few dollars may enable you to get thousands of miles from your old car

THE Model T Ford is still a great car. It led the motor industry for twenty years and it is used today by more people than any other automobile. More than eight million Model T Fords are in active service in city, town and country, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five more years and even longer at very small up-keep expense.

The cost of Model T parts and of necessary labor is unusually low because of established Ford policies.

The labor charge for tuning up the motor is only $1. This includes replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon runs from $3 to $4. Overhauling carburetor, $1.50. Installing new pistons or connecting rods, $6. Tightening main bearings, $6. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have the motor and transmission completely overhauled.

The labor charge for replacing rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion or drive gear is $5. All sockets and joints of front end can be tightened for $1.50.

The steering gear can be completely overhauled for a labor charge of $3.50. Muffler repaired for $1.

The labor charge for repainting the Coupe is $25. Sedan, $25. Touring Car, $20. Top deck of Coupe or Sedan can be replaced for a labor charge of $4.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of reconditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

PRETTY BRITISH BARMAIDS.

All Americans, including the "wags" in the last man, will sympathize with the movement in England to do away with the barmaids in the British "pubs." This "ancient and picturesque tradition" is being attacked, and finally, a bill is proposed that would prevent the present number of 25,000 barmaids from being increased, and would gradually cut it down to only the wives and daughters of the keepers of public houses. Surely this ought to be moderate enough not to offend even the most conservative Britisher long accustomed and desirous to have his stout or his stronger stuff handed to him over the bar by a good-looking young woman. The leaders of the anti-barmaid crusade complain that these girl Ganymedes of Britain "are selected mainly for their youthfulness, good looks, smartness and attractive appearance," but if they are selected for all such work, why not? More to the point is the claim that the health of the girls "suffers from the stuffy and unhealthy atmosphere too often found in the saloons" and that their morals also are endangered. Nevertheless it is said to be doubtful whether even the moderate bill proposed can be passed, for "clients would protest vigorously against the disappearance of the cheery maids from behind the bar, and novelists, playwrights and writers of thrillers would be unable to continue their work without that standard prop of their industry, the British barmaid." However that may be—and such frivolity in such a connection is lamentable—it is obvious that working behind the bar of a saloon and compelled to listen to the mouthings of all comers, whether sober or tipsy, is no proper occupation for a decent young woman.

WHY THEY TRAVEL.

American expenditure for foreign travel this year is expected to establish a new high record. Before the war American tourists abroad spent about $200,000,000 a year. In 1927 this item had climbed to $770,000,000. The yearly increase has been steady and seems likely to continue. At first this developing zeal for foreign travel was held to be a post-war phenomenon. People were going abroad to see the World War battlefields. Travel enthusiasm was expected to abate in a few years. Now, in the tenth year since the Armistice, no one any longer expects any lessening of foreign travel.

Partly this is because it has been brought within the financial means of whole classes of people who always have longed to travel but formerly could not afford it. School teachers, students, and other groups of modest means can now go abroad with considerable comfort for comparatively moderate sums. And they are seizing their opportunity eagerly.

Partly, too, the new travel urge is a symptom of widening mental horizons. America discovered the rest of the world during the war. Americans go abroad now, not to see battlefields which have been obliterated by time, but to see and taste for themselves the Old World scenes and culture of which they had only read before.

There is no reason why this development should come to an end. It is wholesome. As travel facilities advance, citizens of many countries will jaunt about the world as they used to jaunt about their own communities. One can go so much farther in the same amount of time it used to take to go only into the next county or state. Why not do it?

When a railroad detective finds two young men riding a freight car which he is paid to keep clear of tramps, how is the detective to know that these young men are fine fellows out for youthful adventure, instead of the bums he expects them to be? They are stealing rides, aren't they? On the other hand, should even a railroad cop be so rough and regardless as to knock a bum off a freight car in such a way that he will fall under the wheels? The case of the boy who was killed, and that of the boy who was beaten and left for dead a good many years ago, are not forgotten by the law of England. It is not the law of England, but the law of the United States, that is being tested in the case of the boy who was killed, and that of the boy who was

NEGLECTED SORE THROAT.

Although there are perhaps fewer cases of rheumatism in children in America than in Great Britain, nevertheless the fact that rheumatism is the forerunner of heart disease in the majority of cases should never be forgotten.

It is such a menace to health and life in Great Britain that on the reverse side of the patient's card in one of the large children's hospitals some straight advice is printed.

"That a sore throat is the most frequent beginning of rheumatism followed by heart disease has been definitely proven. A rheumatic child with a sore throat is not only likely to have an acute attack of rheumatism but also a strong possibility of heart involvement. Now the rheumatism will show itself because there is the sore throat, pains in muscles, painful joints, paleness, nervousness."

"On the other hand the heart injury which followed rheumatism may not be detected as the shortness of breath and paleness may be thought due to rheumatic illness and that the child is simply slow in recovering."

Now the heart can be injured by any infection, in fact during an attack of influenza the heart is often affected. It was because of this reason that the family doctor tries to keep the child in bed for a considerable time after the acute illness has passed.

The parents are anxious to get the child out of bed, and the youngster feels so well that if not watched will be playing around the room instead of resting.

While infection is the direct cause there is also more rheumatism during cold damp weather. A dry airy room with sunshine is the ideal place for rheumatic children.

The lesson is that a sore throat may mean crippling rheumatism or an actual organic heart ailment. Don't neglect a sore throat.

Presidential Privilege

The President of the United States cannot be legally compelled to testify in a court. He is not under the control of any department of the government. There is no legal process by which the President could be arrested if he objected. Even if he committed murder he would not be subject to arrest so long as he was President. Of course he could be impeached. If convicted he would be removed from office and then he would be subject to the laws and the courts like any other citizen.

King James' Bible

The report of Dr. Miles Smith of the committee on revision of the Bible, the King James' version, says "Every particular man of each company to take the same chapter or chapters, and, having translated or amended them severally by himself, where he thinketh good, all to meet together, confer what they have done, and agree for their part what shall stand. As any one company hath dispatched any one book in this manner they shall send it to the rest to be considered of seriously and judiciously."

Sparrow Pest

English sparrows have been found in the State of California since 1871. They were brought to this country from England about 1850.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz July 19.—Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Wolzinger entertained Mr. S. H. Ode and Mrs. Loretta Van Allen of Port Jervis on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David V. Wagner of Yorkville are the guests of their neighbors, Mrs. Russell H. Adams and Mr. Adams.

Miss Emily D. Ode has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Albert Deke, at Pawling.

There was a good house at Kingston when the New Paltz High school gave their play there, "The Arrival of Kitty." About $50 was realized, which was divided equally between Kerhonkson and the high school students.

Bath on Wednesday afternoon of last week indicated the Reformed church as the place for the midsummer sale and supper of the Ladies Aid. The choice for fair weather would have been the old district school grounds. The supper was served in the church parlors and the fancy work booths were on the porch and lawn. The rain stopped in time to allow further lawn decorations; an old fashioned well-house with a bucket that rose from the well after you had dispersed five cents for the prize it contained; an apple tree gay with balloons of all shapes and colors, and many other things for the children. There was a good sized crowd despite the rain of the early afternoon. In addition to the candy booth about $100 was realized from the supper.

Mrs. Daniel Hasbrouck is able to be up and around again after being ill for some time.

Howard H. Cleaves, has lately lectured at Mohonk on "Cruising the Canadian Border." This is the lecture Mr. Cleaves gave in the New Paltz Normal auditorium last spring.

During his stay at Mohonk he gave two bird talks in the woods to parties of interested guests. As an expression of his high esteem and gratitude, a unique and complimentary travelogue prepared for Lake Mohonk as a tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Smiley was given at Mohonk on Tuesday evening, July 3, by Harry C. Ostrander of Yonkers. The idea developed as they started on their journey around the globe and is represented in a remarkable film which visualized for them and the Mohonk friends the beauty and the wonders of the principal ports of entry and the cities visited enroute commencing at San Francisco, California. Mr. Ostrander follows Mr. and Mrs. Smiley to Honolulu, Hawaii, continues to Kobe, Asaka, Kyoto and Nara, Japan; then on to Shanghai and Hong-Kong, China; Manila, Philippine Islands; Colombo, Ceylon; Suez, Cairo and Alexandria, Egypt; Naples and Genoa and finally via Marseilles, France, to the Gateway of New York and home. This type of lecture was totally different from those which have heretofore been delivered or attempted there. The film and slides used were shown for the first time and will not be displayed elsewhere unless particularly requested and arranged for, as it took almost two solid weeks to get the matter together for it. The lecture was Mr. Ostrander's 209th at Mohonk and the best he has ever given there.

The Mohonk House will close this year on October 23.

In recognition of insistent demands by ardent fans for Saturday afternoon ball games, the New Paltz All-Stars are planning to play Saturday ball starting July 21. The games will be played on the Normal School grounds and play will be called at three o'clock. The New Paltz All-Stars are a team of two years' standing. While not known so well to New Paltz fans they are widely known elsewhere in Ulster, Delaware and Dutchess counties for the fine brand of ball playing they put up. The All-Stars are composed of the best players in and around New Paltz, every player on the team is picked not on his personality, but on his ability to play a certain position. Harris and Giffney of Clintonville, Hulbert, Van Wageningen, Cowell, Ackeret are some of the stars on the team. Mitchell is field captain and Taylor is manager. Some of the games they have already played this year are: Rondout A. C. of Kingston 7, New Paltz All-Stars 1; Wappingers Falls 3, All-Stars 1; Glasco 5, All-Stars 5.

All the Methodist Episcopal Sunday schools of this locality are joining in an excursion by boat chartered for the occasion to Bear Mountain Park, Wednesday, July 25. Music on the boat and four hours sail before reaching at Park.

Explaining Whirlwind

The weather bureau says that the atmospheric pressure in a whirlwind is less than in the still air outside. There is thus a resistant force, directed toward the center of the whirl, acting on the air within the whirl. The tendency to fly off at a tangent is overcome by this inwardly directed force, and as a result the air moves circularly around the axis.

ONE piece of asphalt looks about the same as another. But make a few tests—and you'll find some astonishing differences! Some asphalt melts at much lower temperatures than others. Some get brittle when cold, while others stay flexible. And the kind that goes into the built-up roofing you buy makes a mighty big difference in the service you get!

The asphalts in Carey Built-up Roofs are specially refined and blended, exactly to meet roofing needs. That's one reason why Carey roofs put on decades ago are as weather-tight today as ever. We'll gladly tell you about them—just ask us.

Stamina..
more characteristic
than ever of new
Hupmobile performance

Century Eight Sedan, five-passenger, custom-equipped, $2025, f.o.b. factory

THE widespread public belief that Hupmobile builds a stronger as well as a more finely balanced motor car, has never been more strikingly demonstrated than in the Hupmobile Century Sixes and Eights. Here are modern high compression engines whose power may be utilized to the full without wear or strain. At high speeds, for example, oil is forced at pressure to piston pins through drilled connecting rods. Lanchester dampers eliminate the last trace of engine vibration. Advanced oil, air and crankcase cleaners provide much longer life to the wearing parts of the motor. Throughout from chassis to the sturdy and beautiful coachwork, the Century models reveal the century's greatest advance in car design. You will own a Century Hupmobile as soon as you complete your first test of its remarkable riding and driving qualities.

24 body and equipment combinations, standard and custom on each line. Six of the Century, $1345 to $1625. Century Eight, $1825 to $2105. All prices f.o.b. Detroit. No War Tax.

When you come home from a hot day's work, quench your thirst with "Canada Dry"

IT HAS been one of those really hot days . . . bright sun . . . glaring heat . . . a breeze like the breath from a furnace. The kind of a day which leaves people gasping, tired, no appetite.

You get home. And there awaiting you is a cool, beady glass of "Canada Dry." How refreshing it is! How its subtle, gingery taste perks up your appetite! And how you sit down to dinner with renewed vigor, just as if this hadn't seemed the hottest day of the year!

The finest quality of Jamaica ginger and other absolutely pure ingredients in "Canada Dry" recommend it as a hot-weather drink. For ginger is really good for your digestion. By a secret method the carbonation of "Canada Dry" retains its sparkle long after the bottle is opened. This makes it especially healthful.

Serve "Canada Dry" this summer. Drink it between meals. Order it because you know that this ginger ale is a full-bodied, mellow, balanced beverage—a real ginger ale!

Accept 600 More At Training Camp

New York, July 19.—Six hundred additional youths residing within New York state, New Jersey, and Delaware will be accepted for Plattsburg and other Citizens' Military Training Camps of the Second Corps Area, under a War Department authorization received Wednesday by Major-General Harrison E. Ely, commanding general at Governors Island.

This brings the quota of young men to be trained at Second Corps Area C. M. T. Camps to 5,300, the largest total ever accommodated in any one year since the inception of the camps in 1920.

The extra 600 volunteers will be assigned to C. M. T. Camps operating during the month of August. Their number will be distributed proportionately among Plattsburg, Fort Hancock, Madison Barracks, Fort DuPont, and Fort Monmouth.

Great men change their minds—their wives make 'em.

Garden Stuff.

Alas, that gardens get so weedy—Weeds are so arrogant and greedy! They're all of that, they are indeed. That's why the garden looks so seedy.

Preaching is never so effective as practicing.

Thank goodness! Heaven selected its musical instruments before Luke and the sax were invented.

Don't start a job unless you know you can finish it; it may be your finish!

You can say this for Mr. Hancock's signature on the Declaration of Independence: It was never made with a postoffice pen.

Traveller: Who's the close-mouthed individual over in the corner? He hasn't spoken for ten minutes.

Village Wit: Hy Blackmore! He ain't close mouthed. He's just waitin' till Pete comes back with the spittoon.

Some one says kissing a pair of painted lips is like sitting on a freshly painted park bench, but we've never sat on a painted bench.

An honest confession is good for the soul but bad for the reputation.

Hospitalitis is a habit not a disease.

Nothing is so sure as death, taxes and summer visitors.

"I never kiss a new acquaintance for twenty-four hours."

"Heavens! I never kiss anybody for more than twenty minutes!"

About the time a popular song gets popular it loses its popularity.

A man, unaccustomed to praising his wife, went out of his way to call her an angel.

"Start," he said one morning, "you are an angel," and she felt charmed all day.

In the evening she ventured to ask why she had been so honored.

"Well," said the wily one, "in the first place you are always fitting about; secondly, you are always harping on things; thirdly, by your own account, you have nothing to wear; and fourthly, you are up in the air most of the time."

All that a man needs to know about a woman is that he loves her.

I can remember when a woman's children got more attention than her hair and face.

Love's young dream is often turned into a nightmare by the wife's cooking.

"It took you a long time to pull that fellow's teeth," said the dentist's assistant.

"Yes, he married the girl I loved."

Vacation season, said a man the other day, again impresses the need of a printed form card ready for mailing with the simple message "Having a grand time. Weather ideal. Wish you were here."

The minister was earnestly imploring an old Scotch friend to repent his sins. "Well," said the old sinner, "if you will answer me one question, I will become a Christian."

"What is the question?" eagerly asked the minister.

"It is this. Who was Cain's wife?"

"My friend," replied the minister, "you will never be able to embrace religion until you quit bothering yourself about other men's wives."

A man may be down but he's never out of excuses for getting that way.

News From the World on Wheels

Another new high record for retail sales of Marmon straight eights was established in June, according to a final compilation of sales reports at the Marmon factory which further reveals that the company's shipments in the first six months of this year were slightly more than 15 per cent greater than the total for all of 1927.

Coupe bodies on five different chassis models are now being produced by Graham-Paige, at a price range from $860 for the 110-inch wheelbase six to $2,455 for the 135-inch eight. With these additions, the Graham-Paige line comprises sedans and coupes on all chassis, and town sedans, seven-passenger sedans, and cabriolets on the larger six and the eight.

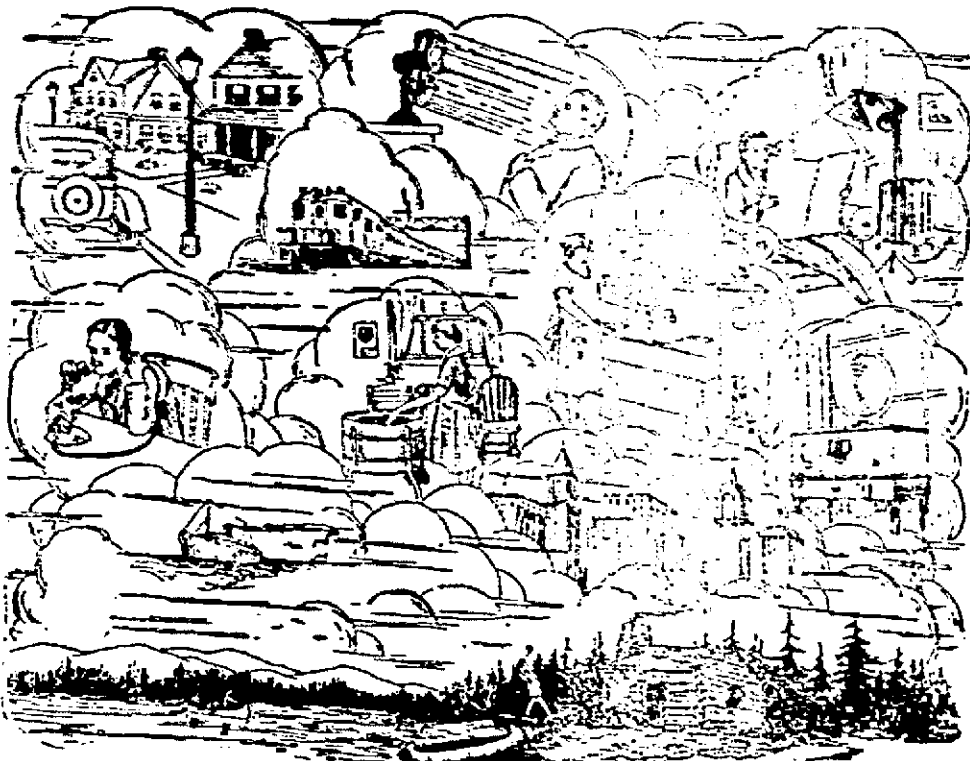

Despite the extensive change-over period that Dodge Brothers, Inc. has gone through during the past six months in preparing a complete new line of six cylinder cars and trucks to replace the old line fours, this company completed its first half year with the enviable record of having shipped 121,327 units from its plants in the United States and Canada.

Announcement of its purpose to extend its activities into the commercial vehicle field with a de luxe line of delivery vehicles and busses, to be known as Fargo Express, is made by one of the leading motor car producers. The identity of this company and details of the product will be made known later. For the present, it is stated that the new Fargo Express is in production and will be ready for delivery in from 60 to 90 days. Selection of Fargo Express as the name of this portion of the company's products is in honor of William C. Fargo, generally credited with founding the express system as it is known today.

As a contribution to safety in night driving, Oldsmobile headlights are so closely adjusted that the light beam at 25 feet cannot vary more than a quarter of an inch. This adjustment guarantees a light that fully illuminates the road more than 300 feet ahead and across its entire width without glare or discomfort to approaching motorists. Every headlight used on Oldsmobiles is tested and adjusted before it is accepted. The inspection takes place in a semi-dark room where the light beam can be accurately gauged and measured.

By Invention the Nation Has Progressed

Looking backward through the vista of the years to the days of our forefathers—those hardy pioneers who hewed a home from savage forests—we gain perspective and see with clear vision the progress made.

And surely it is astounding! For from a wilderness we have evolved rapidly into a prosperous and scientific civilization.

True, we have had great natural resources from the start, but these are valueless until developed and converted through manufacture into useful articles. No nation has grown rich and powerful on raw materials alone.

Our progress has been achieved, not through brawn and sweat alone, but through intelligence, scientifically guiding the efforts of brawn. And invention, the child of intelligence, has built our civilization.

Thus it is that today we enjoy the marvels of a scientific age—rapid transportation, by land, sea and air; instant communication by telegraph, telephone and radio; modern cities and homes, sanitary and safe, and lavishly supplied with luxuries and conveniences.

And, today, amidst it all, stands Electricity, mankind's universal and versatile servant, performing magic before our eyes and doing silently and effectively the labor of millions of hands.

Foot Tortures Vanished Overnight

Says Officer Ray Van Buren

Read What This Popular Kingston
Policeman Writes:

FOR years I have been having all kinds of trouble with my feet. Being on the police force I, of course, am standing up all day long on hard pavements. When I would get home at night my feet would be aching and burning, and I was troubled with soreness due to callouses. My first trial of Colman's proved what a wonderful thing it is. I put some on when I came home from work and my feet felt brand new at once. The burning and aching left immediately. I used it again the next morning, and I could not believe it—my feet felt so fine all day. Now I am never troubled with foot ailments—thanks to Colman's.

Policemen everywhere, and others who are on their feet all day, say the same thing. Officer H. A. McLaughlin, pictured above, who suffered foot pain for years says, "Colman's ended the burning and aching of my feet at once."

Wonderful Cream Ends Burning Feet
Now you, too, can enjoy instant relief from tired, aching, burning feet. Colman's, a marvelous new, ivory-white soothing cream, contains rare oils and frankincense and myrrh—used by the ancients for centuries to heal foot tortures caused by hot desert sands.

It penetrates at once to the inflamed nerves—soothes and cools them—relieves congestion in the tiny veins—insanely all foot troubles vanish and your aching feet feel like new. Colman's is priceless, vanishes instantly, cannot stain. Satisfaction guaranteed, or small cost refunded. Sold and recommended by good drug and dept. stores everywhere, such as:

Solid Gold Plumbing Adorns Costly Mansion

Finer in many ways than even Windsor Castle, home of the British king and queen which stands nearby, is "The Willows" (above), English mansion of Sir Dhunji Bomanji and Lady Bomanji (inset). Its owner is a wealthy Bombay merchant. Even the washbasins (left) are of marble, with hydrants of solid gold.

Windsor, England, July 19 (AP).—The most costly residence in England is known here as "The Willows", but neighbors prefer to call it "The House of Arabian Nights."

It is the residence of Sir Dhunji Bomanji, wealthy Bombay merchant. It stands within sight of the towers of Windsor Castle, one of the homes of the king and queen of England, but it is said to be furnished more elaborately than even the royal home.

Every bedroom in Sir Dhunji Bomanji's home is fitted with a marble wash basin, and every hydrant, bracket and hatrack is made of solid gold. In Sir Dhunji Bomanji's own room the legs of the wash stand are also of gold.

All the furniture is on a corresponding style of magnificence. The rooms are furnished according to various periods, and the furniture consists entirely of rare antiques. Sir Dhunji Bomanji's bedroom is finished in French style in the fashion of Louis XIV.

The house of the Indian millionaire is built in Tudor style. It is surrounded by beautiful gardens, dotted with marble statuary and fountains. One of the marble pieces, known as "Truth," attracts particular attention. It represents a nude woman holding aloft a mirror.

Sir Dhunji Bomanji, in addition to being a connoisseur of solid gold and marble, is also a sportsman. He has a large stable of horses on his grounds, and to the rear of his grounds a miniature race track has been laid out.

With so magnificent a home, entertaining is second nature to the Bombay potentate and Lady Bomanji. Their guest rooms are almost always occupied, and Sir Dhunji Bomanji has given several large functions, which many British titled people attended.

Sir Dhunji Bomanji was knighted in 1922 for services rendered the British and Indian governments during the world war. He has now come to England to make his permanent residence here.

PLATEMILL GRANGE HAS MANY ACTIVITIES

The roll call of patrons at the regular meeting of Platemill Grange, No. 522, on Saturday evening, passed over the one hundred mark. It was Farm and Home Bureau night and in connection F. M. Wiegman, former manager of the Ulster County Farm Bureau delivered an interesting address on "Problems in production and marketing which confront the fruit grower and poultryman."

Other numbers on the program were vocal solos: "I Love You Truly" and "In the Good Old Summer Time" by Charles Everett; a humorous reading by Mrs. Harold Patterson; and vocal duets, "When You and I Were Young, Mazzy Day" and "Matrimonial Jaws" by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Minard.

The home economics committee met with Mrs. J. M. Chase on Monday evening. The date for the annual Grange fair was set for Thursday evening, September 27.

The annual clambake will be held during the month of August, date of which will be announced later.

The next regular meeting to be held on July 25, is being looked forward to with great expectations. The program committee consisting of Mr. and Mrs. James Litch, Ella Mack, Mrs. Norman Tremper, Myron and Arthur Foster, with the assistance of many others, representing both local and outside talent, have organized a troupe called the "Dixie Warblers" and will present a minstrel show on that evening. Rehearsals are being held regularly and this promises to be one of the big features of the year. Refreshments will be appropriate for the Dixie evening. Patrons who fail to attend this meeting will be missing one of the best programs of the year.

Royalty's Resting Place

The Great pyramid of Egypt is said to have been built by Cheops more than 50,000 years ago. It measures at the base 755 feet on each of the four sides. It is 451 feet high and covers 12½ acres of land. About 600,000 tons of stone were used in building it. Herodotus states that it occupied 100,000 men for twenty years. It was used as tombs for kings.

PAY $2,500 FOR FALSE ARREST

London Police Department
Uses Own Funds as Balm for Error.

London.—If ever any American police department awarded damages from its own funds to a man who had been arrested and discharged, it is not commonly known, but that is what happened here.

Maj. Graham Bell Murray, C. I. E., a distinguished officer of the Indian army, who served in Gallipoli and France in the war and was twice mentioned in dispatches for both brains and bravery, has been awarded $2,500 from the funds of the metropolitan police district. He declares that he is entirely dissatisfied and that the loss of dignity and the expense to which he was put should entitle him to at least $25,000. On the face of the returns his claim would appear to be sound, but an American would say that he is a miracle man.

Led to Department Probe.

Major Murray's case is one of the causes celebres which brought about the appointment by the home secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, of the street offenses committee to inquire into the numerous complaints that policemen have been recklessly arresting people without sufficient evidence on charges of insulting women, or of engaging in indecent conduct.

The charges have shaken the police system to its foundation, and have culminated in the famous Hyde Park case, in which Sir Leo Money, for eleven years a member of parliament, and a Miss Savidge were arrested for alleged improprieties by two policemen in Hyde Park, only to be discharged. The case of Sir Leo and Miss Savidge has become a grave question in parliament, has become a political problem, the Socialists going solidly against the police, and several suits being filed by Inspector Collins and the arresting officer against two weekly papers.

Major Murray was arrested last August 24 on the charge of being drunk and of peering, or looking into the faces of two women. J. Thurston, arresting officer, asserted that the woman appeared to be very much annoyed at the time but they did not appear against the major when he was brought before Magistrate Mead at Marlborough street police court the next morning.

Thurston testified that the major was drunk and peering. No other evidence of the peering was brought forth, but Inspector John Clarke, at the Vine street station, and Dr. Ian Macpherson, a police surgeon, testified that the major was drunk. That made it an ordinary case of the police against a prisoner on the much-mooted question: When is a man legally drunk? But matters were complicated by the charge that the gallant major had insulted women and the women were not forthcoming.

Charges Rights Denied.
Furthermore, Major Murray charged that he was thrown into a cell and was not informed of his right to telephone to fellow members at the Junior Army and Navy club, which he had left a few minutes before he was arrested, nor was he allowed to call a private physician to examine into the question of whether he was drunk.

As the case involved the integrity of the police, Magistrate Mead postponed the case, but later he fined Major Murray 40 shillings, or about $10, with five guineas costs, or a little more than $25.

Major Murray appealed to the London Quarter Sessions against the police court decision. Sir Robert Wallace heard the appeal. Police Constable Thurston stuck to his story that the major was drunk and peering. Major Murray produced friends from the club who swore he was perfectly sober among them a few minutes prior to the arrest. Before the defense had finished calling witnesses Sir Robert announced he had heard enough. He reversed the police court decision and completely exonerated the major.

The case was carried to the street offenses committee and a subcommittee heard it all over again, with the result that Major Murray was exonerated once more and the award of $2,500 from the metropolitan police district fund was added as further balm.

"A little later, when I was about to drive again before the gallery, he called out: 'Put your head down, you big slop.'"

"And I did."

President Spends Day Canoeing

Superior, Wis., July 19 (AP).—President Coolidge spent a period of unusual quietness with executive affairs. President Coolidge purposed today to suit his activities to the requirements of the day and to prefer the open air to his study.

His canoe was ordered to be ready at an early hour with John Laroock, President Coolidge's Indian guide, and to pole the craft up the rapids into the wilder stretches of the Brule. His rods also were prepared for a fishing excursion.

Eager to see her husband engaged in the pastime which keeps him away from the lodge many hours every day, Mrs. Coolidge had expressed a desire to follow him today. Her son, John, offered to paddle for her and a canoe was arranged for them.

President Coolidge is learning to fish, although he no longer takes daily lessons from his guide with the enthusiasm which characterized his first days of apprenticeship.

President Coolidge's casting also is improved greatly. His chief pleasure now is derived from trying to hook fish in the swiftly moving waters of the stream with dry flies.

Hoke Smith Calls For More Activity

Atlanta, Ga., July 19 (AP).—Hoke Smith, former governor and senator and last living member of President Cleveland's cabinet, today issued a call to Democrats for a militant campaign on behalf of the Democratic presidential ticket.

Declaring himself a Democrat since the days when members of his party were "obliged to arm themselves to reach the ballot box," the former senator deplored the "inactivity" of the constituted authorities of the Democratic party in Georgia for having "taken no steps toward an organized, aggressive campaign." He believed action was particularly imperative in view of the "wide spread and aggressive campaign already inaugurated against the nominees."

Mr. Smith designated July 27 as the date of the meeting and requested all loyal Democrats who feel concerned over the situation to meet in an Atlanta theatre.

He said: "I am no fifty-fifty Democrat. My services to the party date back to the time when Democrats were obliged to arm themselves to reach the ballot box. White supremacy was then re-established by the Democratic party in the face of federal barons, and through all the years has been maintained by the Democratic party, and if the Democratic party be now overthrown, then the overthrow of white supremacy will inevitably follow."

Artistics Tounce Hercules, 10 to 4

World's greatest, coupled with eight more and seven hits, scattered the Artistics to six their first game this season at the Athletic Field Wednesday night. The score was 10 to 4 with the Artistics on the short end. Eddie Fitzgerald for pitcher, Russell (Lena) for pitcher, for the Artistics, and Van Etten for pitcher, for the Hercules.

Clayton and Van Etten were the Artistics' pitchers. Clayton pitched the first three innings, and Van Etten pitched the last three. Clayton was not hit so often, but Van Etten was very liberal with his passes to first base.

The Artistics scored one run in the first inning, two in the second, two in the third, four in the fourth, five in the fifth, and six in the sixth. The Hercules scored their first run in the fourth, fifth and seventh. In the Artistics' big innings, they were on base, and the White Sox led when they tied up the ball by 4 to 5. Lena was firm in his control, and Van Etten made an error that allowed Grancy to reach first base and start the rally. Gallagher followed with a single and Van Etten lost control and walked Golick and Snyder, forcing a run in. Gallagher scored on Niles' grounder and Gallagher tallied. Fitzgerald sent Golick and Snyder home with a single, and Niles scored the last run on Brophy's sacrifice fly.

Pan-Ams to Meet All-Stars

Following a "hot" argument between Manager John McCordie of the Kingston All-Stars and Bill McNally, boss of the Pan-Ams, a three-game series, the first of which will be played at Pan-Am Park on the Saugerties road, Sunday, was arranged between the two clubs.

Both nines have been keen rivals for some time but a scramble for supremacy was unforeseen until the head men of the clubs met in verbal combat, which might have developed into fist fighting had not the team bosses been soothed by peace-makers. The players of the rival nines think just the same as their leaders, which promises a fast contest, to be unmarked by arguments as agreed upon, for a number of fans that is expected to exceed any attendance at a tilt on the diamond this season.

Joe DuBois and Tom Lewis are slated to do the tossing for the All-Stars, who are now being coached by Cy Connors. It is expected that he will send the regular lineup against the Pan-Ams. Bill McNally of the oilmen will likely announce his plans for the game in the near future.

Manager McCordie of the All-Stars contemplates starting a series with Freddie Wetmore's Poughkeepsie team during the first week in August. There was always plenty of rivalry between teams here and those of the down-river city, so fans of Poughkeepsie are getting ready to see some good games. It is expected that the Kingston-Poughkeepsie tilt will stimulate baseball's advance in the bridge city, where interest has been on the wane this season.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By William J. Chittenden, Associated Press Sports Writer.)
The case of the Chicago White Sox to a base among the elite has been developed, complications of a special license for professional baseball players, to be known as "tagging" bases.

Some doubt regarding the doing of Mr. Ruth could be noticed among the White Sox in the ninth inning at the Yankee Stadium yesterday.

The White Sox in the ninth inning at the Yankee Stadium yesterday. The Sox won a 10 to 4 victory over the Yankees. Two Yankees were out, Combs and Koenig. The Sox were on base, and the White Sox led when they tied up the ball by 4 to 5. Lena was firm in his control, and Van Etten made an error that allowed Grancy to reach first base and start the rally. Gallagher followed with a single and Van Etten lost control and walked Golick and Snyder, forcing a run in. Gallagher scored on Niles' grounder and Gallagher tallied. Fitzgerald sent Golick and Snyder home with a single, and Niles scored the last run on Brophy's sacrifice fly.

The Cleveland Indians broke out of their slump by losing to the Yankees when they are interested in being constructed as a slump-by-shading the Red Sox in two innings at Boston, 6 to 5. The Athletics took another from the Tigers in Philadelphia, 5 to 1. The other American League teams were idle.

The Pirates would be champions of the world if the other fifteen teams were the Phillies and the Braves. The Buccaneers made it nine straight against its opposition by slugging the Bostonians, 16 to 2, yesterday as a few terrified witnesses stood by powerless to halt the brutality. Burleigh Grimes won his fifteenth victory. Vic Aldridge, just for a comparison, is not even in the National League records.

The Reds raised their stock somewhat by taking two decisions from the Robins, 11 to 10 and 2 to 1, while other first division teams remained idle. It was not reported, however, that the Cardinals had any fewer than their customary eight hours of sleep. Bill Doak held the Reds scoreless until the seventh when he fell a victim of the heat. Rube rushed to the rescue and finished the round without a run, only to be removed when he permitted Kelly to single as the eighth began.

Daddy Vance next was called upon. He caused Drennon to force Zitzmann who ran for Kelly, but the Reds went on to score two runs which enabled them to live through a one-run Brooklyn rally in the ninth. The defeat was charged to Ehrhardt on the grounds that he was responsible for one runner, regardless of that runner's identity, and that single man scored, giving the Reds a lead which the Robins never tied.

The case is almost identical with the one which cost Alvin Crowder of the Browns the only defeat thus far charged to him this season.

EXCELSIORS LOST TO CENTRAL HUDSON TEAM.

After collecting five runs in the first inning the Excelsior club ceased scoring and were unable to hold the Central Hudson team from crossing the home plate eight times during the baseball game at the Fair Grounds Wednesday night. The Excelsiors found Jimmy Doyle, who was far from being in his usual hurling form, with ease in the opening stanza, but Metcalf, who replaced him, was invincible in the next six innings. Johnny Johnson, who starred on the mound for the Excelsiors, resigned his task to Misore and the latter put an end to a hitting spree started by the Central Hudson players. Nine hits were collected by each team, with Slicker and Wood of the winning team highest of the stickmen. Each of the two men found the pill three times. This evening the Excelsiors will meet the Red Sox at the Fair Grounds.

Tilden Dropped From Cup Team

Paris, July 19 (AP).—William T. Tilden was dropped from the American Davis Cup tennis team today.

The American star was dropped, Joseph Wear, chairman of the American Davis Cup committee said, because he had violated the amateur rules in writing about the Wimbledon tournament while playing in it.

The announcement was concurred in by Samuel H. Crompton, president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Tilden's removal caused a complete change of the American team. Francis T. Hunter and John Hennessey will represent the United States in the doubles.

Previously it had been planned to play Tilden and Lott in the singles and Lott and Hennessey in the doubles in the inter-zone matches against Italy opening tomorrow.

With Tilden of the team it was considered in some tennis quarters that America may not even reach the challenge round in Davis Cup competition this year.

The Italians, led by Baron H. L. D. Morsburgo, it was pointed out, were good enough to eliminate such strong teams as Australia, Great Britain and Czechoslovakia in European zone play. They would have been no "set ups" for the Americans even if Tilden played. With their captain on the side lines, the Americans may find Morsburgo and his teammates a bit too much for them.

Tilden said "I refute all charges. I have protested in vain, as usual. The orders emanated from New York and I know nothing about them."

Chairman Wear of the Davis Cup committee called his resignation because of Tilden's removal. He demanded that it be effective as soon as the team returned to America.

Colloom said he would decide what to do after he returned. Roth recognized that they must continue to act during the cup matches regardless of their feelings.

Lott Refuses to Play.
Tennis sensation followed tennis sensation when Lott announced he would not play in the doubles. Whether because of sympathy over Tilden's dishonor or disappointment because he was not chosen for the singles was not indicated.

Both Colloom and Wear took the young player aside and argued that he must see the thing through. Lott reserved decision until this evening but it was confidently expected that after the excitement of a hectic day had died down he will take over his assigned place on the team.

HOLLAND FAVORS BASEBALL GAME

Efforts Being Made to Popularize American Sport.

Characterizing baseball, or baseball as "the ideal sport" (the ideal sport of the summer), the Dutch athlete also is making a determined effort to popularize American baseball wherever Dutch is spoken. The pitcher of the Ajax team, which played a practice game recently against the American football eleven, is even going to Batavia, Dutch East India, soon in the hope of introducing baseball there.

"Holland" was brought to Holland some 15 years ago by an Amsterdam teacher of sports, G. Graus, who had seen the game played in America, but who then had not taken the trouble to familiarize himself with it thoroughly. Returned to Holland he suddenly realized that Holland had no summer game comparable to soccer football for the fall and spring.

So he and a group of Dutch enthusiasts sat down to study baseball from Spalding's rules. They got most of it right, except that the pitcher threw the ball underhanded.

One day an American man-of-war anchored outside Amsterdam. The Holland Baseball Federation asked the Americans to play them. It was then that they learned a new ball may be pitched. The natives also willingly taught them other the points.

After a few years interest lagged, and only eight years ago was baseball taken up again. Two years ago the United States cruiser Pittsburgh visited Amsterdam, and a series of games was arranged. That gave new impetus to "honkball," so that by today there are some 10 clubs in Amsterdam with 21 nines, one in Haarlem and one in Hilversum playing baseball.

A Dutch audience reacts differently to baseball from what an American does. While in the United States the spectators in the bleachers seem happy when a ball is hit there, and men vie with one another to catch it, everybody in Holland within apparent reach of the ball ducks as it approaches, and there is great commotion.

Former Champion Jockey Loses 100 Races in Row

The champion jockey of England for many years, Steve Donoghue, has struck a poor track this season. On April 10 at Birmingham he won on Au Revoir, and when he was beaten with Tactics at York recently the world-famous rider chalked up his one hundredth consecutive loser.

During the years 1914-23 Donoghue headed the list of winning jockeys in England, and the slogan, "Come on, Steve," was heard on every course. It is no longer heard. The originator of that catch phrase is said to have been J. C. Galstoun, an Indo-Armenian, who used to visit England each summer and back, selling placards heavily.

Wisconsin U. to Build $650,000 Field House

Construction of a $650,000 field house at the University of Wisconsin has been assured by Governor Zimmerman's approval of a lease for the site.

The University of Wisconsin Building corporation, a private group within the university, will borrow $526,000 from the state teachers' retirement fund to pay for building material and labor.

When the building is completed it will be leased back to the board of regents for an approximate rental of $20,000, the lease running for fifty years.

Louis Meyer Unknown in His Own Home District

When Louis Meyer of South Gate, a Los Angeles suburb, won the Indianapolis Motor Speedway race, he was almost totally unknown in his home district.

Few people in Los Angeles had ever heard of the youth before newspapers announced his victory.

So slight had been the expectation that he would win the classic that newspapers searched their libraries in vain for pictures of the winner.

Light Training For Tom Heeney

Heeney's training began today. A new program was mapped out covering the work from now on until his departure for New York to battle Gene Tunney for the world's heavyweight championship a week from tonight.

Heeney was to increase his boxing to six rounds today and perhaps step another six tomorrow, provided the weather sets a bit cooler. If it remains hot, he will cut his boxing to four rounds tomorrow. He also is scheduled to box four rounds Saturday, Sunday and Monday. After his workout Monday the gloves will be laid aside.

From Tuesday on the challenger will cut out all work except his jogging on the road and just enough gymnasium exercise to keep him loose. He plans to remain here until late Wednesday afternoon, going to New York that night.

As far as condition goes, both mental and physical, the New Zealand challenger looks perfect. He is the picture of an athlete in shape. The perspiration drips off him, but he hardly draws a long breath when he finishes his workout. He seems to have the energy of a dynamo.

Working out in his outdoor ring, in stifling heat, the challenger gave one of the most impressive performances of his training seige yesterday. He stepped four spirited rounds with James J. Braddock and James J. Lawless, with the critics, who have watched him in his training period, unanimous in their opinion that the hard rock never looked better.

CLERMONT VS. BRIGHAMS BATTLE ENDS IN TIE

A hotly contested baseball game resulted in the meeting of the Clermonts and the Brigham A. C. at Hasbrouck Park Wednesday evening when the two clubs fought it out on even terms until darkness halted the fray in the tenth inning. The score at the end of the battle stood 5 all.

The Clermonts had trouble in finding the pills tossed over by Filippo and were able to collect but eight hits. Ken Best, hurling for the Clermonts, allowed 15 bingles, which he managed to keep fairly well scattered. The fifth and sixth stanzas proved Best's worst periods. Ramundo of the Brigahms hit with the most frequency, while Fisher and Vertetics came through in good batting style for the Clermonts.

This evening the Brigahms will journey to Malden for a contest with the representatives of that place. Sunday the brickyard representatives will mix with the Tannersville club on the latter's diamond.

Score by innings:
Brighams..... 0 10 22 0000—5 15 3
Clermonts..... 0 13 000 1000—5 8 2
Filippo and Gardeski; Best and Houghtaling.

Sporting Squibs

Although John L. Sullivan never lectured on Shakespeare, he always brought home the bacon.

Penn State and Notre Dame will play the third of a three-game agreement at Franklin field on November 3.

It's almost got so that nobody thinks much of the great wide open spaces unless they are wide enough to make a golf course.

Not only his clothes, but almost anything else in the line of sporting goods owned by a young man can be used by his sister—and is.

Often the neighbors think the family next door has moved when it's just a case of a golf bound being the husband of a bridge fiend.

Steve Hammes, Penn State athlete, made letters in four sports during the last year. He will receive the "S" in football, basket ball, boxing and track.

Instituted way back in 1715, the annual sculling race on the Thames for Doggett's coat and badge is reputed to be the oldest continuous sporting contest in the world.

Trainers Give Tunney a Holiday

Speculator, N. Y., July 19 (AP).—Dangereously near fighting weight, Gene Tunney, who will risk his world's heavyweight title against Tom Heeney, the powerful New Zealand blacksmith, just a week hence was given a holiday today.

The champion was down to 190 pounds, almost the weight he will carry when he enters the ring against Heeney, and from now on his days of strenuous preparation are few. He probably will work hard tomorrow and again next Monday.

During the next 24 hours, Tunney will decide whether he will fly to New York with Commander Richard Byrd on the day of the fight or travel by motor. If he chooses a motor he will stop to visit James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion, at Wappingers Falls, N. Y.

During yesterday's workout Tunney displayed more aggressiveness than he has demonstrated in this campaign, but he disappointed the experts several times when his sparring partners, Harold Mays and Billy Vidabock, crowded him to the ropes, and connected with heavy hooks to the jaw. Tunney's handlers, however, did not regard the pugilistic missteps as important. They explained that Gene was engaged in perfecting some part of his style and was not adverse to being hit while he worked out his problems.
